Tver Model UN 2019

Human Rights Council

The third day of meetings of the Human Rights Committee at the VII Tver International Model of the UN was quite fun and constructive. The delegates and the Presidium took a short rest and arranged the musical break with dancing.

But the delegates did not forget about their work. The coalitions presented their working papers. The first speaker was a delegate from Israel. She proposed to build a wall around Lebanon, and after to begin bombing the Lebanese territory covered by terrorism.

Germany in its project of resolution announced the end of all military actions, providing any humanitarian assistance to the victims of the war and control over the fact that the aggression would not happen again.

The third project was presented by a diplomat from Argentina. This document was written by the coalition of such countries as France, Argentina, Saudi Arabia, Russian Federation, Ukraine, Iran. They suggested to the government of Israel lifting the blockade of the Western part of the Lebanon, creating a humanitarian corridor for the delivery of medical assistance to the civilian population and arranging negotiations between the sides of the conflict to reach an agreement.

Delegates were able to speak for and against the working papers and the project that could more quickly and effectively solve the problem passed. Such a draft resolution was written by the 3rd coalition. While unmoderated caucuses there were discussed and created amendments to the resolution. Although the delegate from Israel was initially against this project, she joined to the discussions and made some constructive proposals.

The draft resolution was introduced 16 amendments, and they are all very significant. Germany and France calls for an immediate cessation of all hostilities between Israel and Syria. Israel calls for the recognition of the Hezbollah's political party as a terrorist organization. Lebanon asks the US government to stop providing military support to Israel.

Germany, Israel and France call to bring to justice the leaders of the political party "Hezbollah", etc.

Delegates still have a lot of work to do. It is necessary to discuss the amendments and accept the final resolution. But all this awaits us ahead!
